Skyrim do alchemy ingredients respawn

Location ID WhiterunArcadiasCauldron Arcadia's Cauldron is an alchemy shop in The Elder Scrolls V: Skyrim that is located in the Plains District of the city of Whiterun, Whiterun Hold. Background[] "If you need potions, you should try Arcadia's Cauldron." —Whiterun Guard[src] The shop is owned by an Imperial named Arcadia. The store sells alchemy products (potions and ingredients). Arcadia allows free use of the alchemy lab. Going through the door to the left of the lab leads the Dragonborn to the Herbalist's Guide to Skyrim on a table. This book contains many useful combinations and ingredients for potions, as well as increasing the alchemy skill by one point. Arcadia is an expert level trainer. If she trains the Dragonborn in alchemy, the money will go directly into her shop, making it possible to sell her more items. If the Dragonborn has no more potions to sell, then they can use the alchemy lab in the shop to make more. Being detected entering her shop past 8 PM will result in her calling the guards. This is considered trespassing, and will result in a bounty. Quests[] If the Dragonborn asks Farengar for work, he will ask for them to deliver some frost salts Arcadia. When she gets the salts, Arcadia tells the Dragonborn that the salts are an ingredient in a powerful love potion she is brewing. She also muses that she should perhaps test the potion on Farengar first. After the frost salts have been delivered, some alchemy ingredients will be able to be taken off of Arcadia's shelves. These ingredients will respawn in one day's time. A possible location for the Thieves Guild radiant quests "The Heist Job," "The Numbers Job, or "The Shill Job." Notable items[] Herbalist's Guide to Skyrim Gallery[] Trivia[] If the shop is broken into after Arcadia has gone to bed, the same shopkeeper's spiel may be heard, as if the shop were entered during business hours. The sign to Arcadia's Cauldron, as with all alchemy shop signs, features the motif of the three phases of the moon, a symbol commonly associated with the Wiccan religion. If Arcadia is killed, her shop will be taken over by Ahlam. Bugs[] This section contains bugs related to Arcadia's Cauldron. Before adding a bug to this list, consider the following: Please reload an old save to confirm if the bug is still happening. If the bug is still occurring, please post the bug report with the appropriate system template 360 / XB1 , PS3 / PS4 , PC / MAC , NX / PS5 , XS , depending on which platform(s) the bug has been encountered on. Be descriptive when listing the bug and fixes, but avoid having conversations in the description and/or using first-person anecdotes: such discussions belong on the appropriate forum board. Sometimes, the Dragonborn will fall through the floor while standing on the edge of the fireplace. The area will turn blue, and the sky in Sovngarde will appear instead of the roof. The Dragonborn will then enter the falling animation and, after a few seconds, appear where Arcadia spawned. PS3 XB1 The game may crash upon entering or exiting the store. XB1 Ahlam may not take over the business if Arcadia is killed. PC PS3 Being in Arcadia's Cauldron before 8PM will not cause a trespass if the Dragonborn stays later than that, and Arcadia will act like the store is empty. If you do, the timer resets and you have to wait 10 days again. Indoors, I believe they reset when the dungeon/cave does, so 30 days if you cleared it, 10 if you didn't. Over 6 months and I made sure I stayed out of Winterhold and the college. First day back in Winterhold and I get arrested for $40 septim bounty. Then I go up to my quarters at the college and my garden is still bare. I tried the same thing with the garden in Riften but only 2 months. Garden is bare. Everywhere else things grow back quite quickly sometimes. Mr. Allen Posts: 3327Joined: Fri Oct 05, 2007 8:36 am Return to V - Skyrim The UESPWiki – Your source for The Elder Scrolls since 1995Most locations in the game are respawning. This happens, depending on the location, at scheduled times. When a game location respawns, its enemies and loot are reset. This allows revisiting previously visited locations, which will have their contents reset. Specifically: New versions are generated of all respawning enemies. They may not behave the same way as before, e. g. scripted conversations will usually not fire again. The contents of any respawning containers are reset; this includes most chests and sacks. Any items previously stored in the respawned container are permanently deleted from the game. New copies are generated for most items sitting out in the open (ingredients, books, clutter, etc.). If the previous copy is still in the game location, it is removed. Plants are reset, allowing new ingredients to be harvested. All activators will reset. Certain doors will re-lock, and any "quick exit" doors that were "barred from the other side" will be rebarred. However already opened dragon claw puzzle doors will not re-lock, and any keys you may have picked up the first time will still work. The level of the location is set at the first visit, based on your current level. This means that the level of the enemies and the loot will be the same when you return to that location. When an area is too difficult to complete at the current level, you can return to location later when you have leveled to try again. Contents 1 Schedule 1.1 Merchant Chests 1.2 Ore Veins 2 See Also Schedule[edit] There are three different schedules that can be used for respawning a game location: Never. Some dungeons are flagged as "Never Resets", which means that no matter how long you wait the contents are never altered. All containers in such locations are safe for long-term storage. This setting only applies to interior areas; any exterior areas associated with a never-respawning dungeon will respawn after 10 days. Examples of the areas that don't respawn are the houses that you can buy. 10 days (240 hours) of in-game time. This is the default time period used before a dungeon or any other game location respawns. 30 days (720 hours) of in-game time. This is the time period used if a dungeon has been cleared. For any area to respawn, you must not enter the area during the specified time period. Each time you enter the area, the respawn clock is reset. Conversely, you can intentionally re-enter an area frequently to prevent storage containers from resetting (although you run the risk of losing everything if you forget to return in time). Merchant Chests[edit] Merchant Chests respawn every two days (48 hours) of in-game time, independent of whether the store or cell containing the chest has respawned. Ore Veins[edit] Ore veins (all types) sometimes do not respawn normally. See Mining (Bugs) and elsewhere on that article and its talk page. See Also[edit] Cell Reset on the Creation Kit wiki. The Elder Scrolls V: Skyrim > General Discussions > Topic Details Plants and Ingredients respawning I know that plants and ores and so on have a respawn time of a couple of weeks to a month.But since I picked the blue mountain flowers and all those ingredients around Whiterun, they've yet to respawn for the first time. And I have played for nearly 80 hours on this account. Does anyone know if you can manually respawn the ingredients through console or something? 'Cause I visit Whiterun quite often (as I heard that stuff only respawns when not being visited for some time?!) and if so, I won't ever see any flowers again in this area :PAny help would be hot!
